Nineteen Workers Die In Bus-Train Crash In Florida

By REID G. MILLER

57th Year, No. 269

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)-Nineteen young Puerto Ricans, who came to Florida's fields to earn some extra dollars, were killed Tuesday when a farm labor bus collided with a diesel engine.

Fifteen others were badly injured as the engine crushed the bus like an accordion and pushed it 432 feet.

It was the second-worst traffic accident in Florida's history and another in a long series of accidents involving vehicles that carry Florida's

Police and firemen worked for hours under floodlights to pry the bus from the engine with wreckers and acetylene

Friends from the labor camp, called to identify the dead, crossed themselves as they lifted each blanket.

Some electrical equipment for a warning light was strewn by the crossing. The railroad had decided to install a flashing light after another collision several weeks ago when a tomato bus knocked a train off the SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist losses were reckoned today at more than 1,-100 killed or captured in Operation Masher, the big Allied drive in the central coastal plains, U.S. military spokesmen reported. They called it one of the bloodiest fights of the Vietnamese war.

U.S. fighter-bombers continued the renewed air war against North Viet Nam for the third consecutive day, hitting mainly at bridges, railroad tracks, truck convoys and storage areas. Bad weather again hampered assessment of damage. In Ninth Day

What's Right In Conservation?

PLENTY! Says Director MacMullan

There is very much that is right - policies, projects and programs--in the Michigan Department of Conservation. Including methods of managing the state's deer herd.

And if critics want to hold to their opposition opinion they should avoid Ralph A. Mac-Mullan, the Department's director. He is hearty, pleasant and persuasive, and he has a friendly way of putting the whole complex subject into perspective.

"We approach the management of our natural resources -and this includes the deer herd-on an intelligent and scientific basis," he said in Escanaba on Tuesday, while here to meet with Department personnel from the central and eastern Upper Peninsula at the State Office Building.

Tuesday afternoon he continued on to Baraga, where a new building to replace an old district headquarters office was dedicated.

Paul Revere Still Rides But To Sell

By HOWARD H. MUSON BOSTON (AP)—"Listen my children and you shall hear .." about the Paul Revere who hates horses.

Paul Revere Jr., greatgreat-great-grandson of the midnight rider, travels by automobile-about 150 miles a day-in his job as a salesman.

The 34-year-old descendant of the man who warned the patriots at Lexington in 1775 that the British were coming to destroy their supplies at Concord says there always is skepticism when he's introduced to someone.

"That may account for my dislike of horses," Revere said good humoredly in an interview. He is proud of the Revere tradition, however. Paul Jr. travels extensively

The People's Resources

Ralph MacMullan, director of the Michigan State Department of Conservavtion, was in the Upper Peninsula this week meeting with officers of the department on its program.

The department has recently been expanded by the inclusion of the State Water Resources Commission, the Michigan State Tourist Council and other agencies in the consolidation of departments of state government and now has several thousand employes who administer the natural resources of the state.

MacMullan is pleased with the way most of the department's programs are progressing. The protest meetings on deer policy are regarded as politically inspired and not a reflection of the facts of deer control, which is endorsed by a quarter million applications for any-deer hunt permits and by Michigan's high standing among the states as a big game area.

He is soundly pleased with the reorganization of state government as it affects the Conservation Department, with the department's relationship with the Legislature and with its general outlook on conservation: with the state park system which provided recreation for more than 12 million persons last year: with the state forests, which are providing so much recreation, wildlife and wood for industry.

MacMullan isn't so happy about Michigan's fisheries but thinks the department is moving strongly to make them better. The state's greatest single fishery resource is, of course, the Great Lakes and Mac-Mullan is confident that they will become world-famed as a sports fishing area. He wishes that the Legislature would enact a rod license for Great Lakes fishermen so that there would be more income for development of a sports fishery in these great inland seas. but the Legislature keeps saying no. It wants its constituents to retain the old American privilege of going down to a pier and wetting a line and catching an undersized perch without paying any tribute money to the license agency.

MacMullan says the department is going ahead with what means it has to develop sports fishing in the Great Lakes and that when it's been established it will be back to ask the Legislature to invoke a license fee to maintain the sport. Michigan has not yet learned the lesson learned earlier by other states which are attracting our fishermen: That they don't mind paying Lands and Forests for the towns and villages were moved a rod license fee if it pays for a program that provides fish to catch.

Owens Fined For Tax Dodge

CHICAGO (AP) - Jesse Owens, the superb track star who ruffled Adolf Hitler by winning four gold medals in the 1936 Olympics, was fined $3,000 Tuesday in an income tax case.

Owens had entered a plea of no contest to charges that he failed to file income tax returns Juniors—Gloria Greenwald on $29,135 for the years of 1959 through 1962. Judge Joseph Sam Perry cit-

The maximum penalty would have been four years in prison and a $40,000 fine under the criminal charge placed by the government.

Owens, who has spent recent years working for the Illinois Youth Commission and making numerous appearances before youth groups in addition to a daily radio program, was eleted with Judge Perry's ruling.

the worst since Jan. 14, 1918, when 10.4 inches covered the ground. The edge of the storm struck Virginia with a mixture of snow, sleet and rain Tuesday night. The storm concentrated on the sections of Virginia hardest hit by three previous assaults in the last 10 days.

Heavy snow fell throughout the Shenandoah Valley with 1 to 4 inches of new snow on top of 20- to 30-inch accumulations. Most Virginia schools were closed. The storm blanketed southern and central Indiana and closed hundreds of schools, industries and retail stores. Several main highways were closed. Drifts up to 3 feet plagued the Jasper area. Residents were urged to stay home.

Up to a foot of snow staggered much of southern Illinois. Schools closed, airports suspended operations and trains ran late, if at all.

New York State In the Northeast, people were still crawling out of snow-isolated buildings. Entire counties of upper New York State were buried under drifts of up to 30 feet. Oswego. in the Lake Ontario area, had 102 inches on the ground. Industry was shut down and schools and stores closed. Some
